I think Gabe did a great job on this project. Even when we got stuck on the hard parts, we still worked together and didn't give up. We spent a lot of time making sure the formatting looked right and that all the files were up in GitHub correctly. Gabe was good at listening to my ideas even when he had a different plan for how to start the work. I think he could have been a bit faster at getting his part done so we weren't rushing at the end, but we had some tech problems with the computers that made it hard for anyone to finish on time. Overall, he was a really helpful partner.
